'ROUND

A knot of people gathered around a machine. A driver sits upon the running board, his head in his hands, shaking with nervous tremors. Standing near him is a policeman, a black note book in hand, writing with a scratchy fountain pen.

There is an awed hush among the spectators. When they talk, they do so in whispers.

"And where was this child coming from when you hit her?" the officer asks, pointing his pen.

"Honestly, officer, I didn't see her until she was right under the wheels of the car," the driver almost sobs. "You know I wouldn't want to kill her if I could help it. Man, I have children of my own!" his eyes are wide with horror.

The officer shakes his head and makes several marks in his note book.

Cars speed by. One or two of them will slow up as they see the officer. Others speed right by at breakneck pace.

"Guess some guy got hurt," drivers of the passing cars say. "Well, that's tough luck, so far, I've been lucky."

It is not callousness... nor is it being "hard boiled" it is merely the great American fashion of passing the buck. Some one is killed every minute of the day by a machine. And each driver thinks that he is lucky and will never hit anyone.

And then, some day, he too may sit upon the running board of his machine while an officer stands in front of him, scribbling in a black note book.

No one is ever in such a hurry that he has to kill some innocent person.

Wife Stands By Wounded Suspect

Almost destitute because her husband, Clarence Hyland, 28 shot by Howard Thigpen, El Cerrito policeman in a gun battle Tuesday, had not worked for several months, Mrs. Hyland, wife of the man and her ten year old son were having difficulty in making trips from their home in Oakland to visit the man who is lying in a hospital here in a serious condition.

Mrs. Hyland blames her husband's attempted robbery of an El Cerrito man on the fact that he had not been steadily employed for months. She is still standing by his side.

An operation performed by Richmond doctors relieved the pressure on the spine and removed some of the shattered pieces of bone. The bullet was not removed due to the seriousness of the man's condition.

Hyland will never walk again, it was said by surgeons after the operation as the nerve which controls the leg had been severed by the policeman's shot.

A technical charge of attempted robbery is being held against Hyland.

How means of transportation have been improved during recent years was vividly described by B. X. Tucker, Richmond Union high school principal in a talk entitled "Westward Ho" before members of the Twenty-third club yesterday.

Ready For Big Show

THESE ARE some of the Richmond girls who will take part in the Elks charity show on Dec. 4, 5. They are Charlotte Woloff, Francis Cox, Emma Meyer, Leonora Brougham, Fred McGregor, Grace Childs, Doris Byrns, Esther Patterson and Edith Ketelut.

JR. COLLEGE
REPORT HIT

Richmond is not likely to have a junior college.

Reports that the city would seek to have a junior college established here were denied by W. T. Helms, superintendent of schools in a statement this week.

Helms declared the cost of equipping and maintaining a junior college would be almost prohibitive, and in view of the fact that the University of California is at the door of Richmond, the educator declared it would not be advisable to establish a school here which obviously would not be on a par with the state college.

Instructors at the University of California were declared by Helms to be superior to the group that might be engaged for instruction here, should a junior college be established.

Controversy over the superiority of the first two years of training in a college to the same period spent in a junior college, that has existed for some time on campuses throughout the country, was believed last night to have been responsible for the bringing of the junior college question to the fore here.

Should a bill now being prepared by a committee of California state teachers association be made into law, which provides for the equalization of school taxes, the present school district tax paid by property holders might be reduced enough to permit the establishment of a junior college here, it was believed by those who favored the establishment of such an institution.

STOKES WINS
DIVORCE PLEA

RENO, Nev., Nov. 20.—UP.—Details of his sensational suit for divorce kept secret to the last, W. R. D. Stokes, Jr., scion of a family that has been in headlines for many years, won the decree he sought here late today.

The wealthy New Yorker was granted a divorce from Florence Crittenden Stokes on the allegation of insanity, and Judge Bartlett ruled that his complaint should be put in the secret file.

A satisfactory property settlement was made but terms were not revealed.

Mrs. Isabelle Crittenden, who claims to be the mother of the young wife, was appointed guardian of Mrs. Stokes.

Mrs. Stokes has been kept in the famous Crittenden home here while her husband established residence in Nevada. It was originally built for outcast women. She was kept concealed in a room, the windows of which had been boarded.

The young wife escaped once but was found in a short time and returned to the room.

She has been guarded closely since then by Mrs. Crittenden, alienists and two negro women.

Hearing on the divorce was held in Judge Bartlett's private chambers. There was no contest by Lester D. Summerfield, district attorney, who was appointed by Judge Bartlett to represent Mrs. Stokes.

THE WEATHER
Fair and moderate temperature today and tomorrow; light variable winds.

CHARITY SHOW
OF ELKS HERE
PROGRESSING

With the date for presentation of "Rollin' Along," Elks musical show a little more than two weeks away, lodge members were in the midst of activity for the entertainment which is said will eclipse anything the organization has produced in the past.

The show, a varied musical comedy in three acts, is under the direction of Earl Caldwell of San Francisco, who has produced several other shows here.

"Rollin' Along" carries the audience with the Elks who are making a tour of Europe. Their dialogue, comedy, music, songs, gives the actors an opportunity to display their ability in producing one of the best shows the city has ever seen.

Some of those taking part in the musical are, Jim Stewart, Carl McCann, Frank Tiller, Charles Drake, and Art Irwin. All of these men have taken part in previous entertainments given here. Some of the newer entertainers appearing in this show are J. J. Barry, Chester Shaw, and J. W. Lindsay is from Martinez.

The third and principal act has its setting in Heidelberg, where the main action occurs. Frank Tiller and Charles Drake handle the main comedy leads, while others taking part in the comedy action are Dr. L. H. Fraser, Archie Winchcole, Edgar Dale, and Lad Johnson.

Dale and Winchcole appear as female impersonators.

Twelve bar mafias and some of Matilda Meyers kiddies are included in the cast. Their clever dancing numbers will enliven the act.

The cast of the production is entirely local talent, and all the male members of the cast are Elks. An augmented orchestra under the direction of Dennis Shaw will be in the pit and scenery and costumes will be of the best.

By means of this show the Richmond Elks are raising their annual fund to be used for charity purposes during the Christmas season. With a worthy object to work for and a colorful production that will be well worth while, the local order under the chairmanship of W. W. Scott is putting forth every effort to make "Rollin' Along" the biggest and best show they have ever presented.

Brokerage House
In Big Crash

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—UP.—The fifth suspension for insolvency of a New York stock exchange firm since the first of the year was announced from the exchange today when Bauer, Pogue, Pond & Vivian joined in ranks of recent brokerage house failures.

The firm also was suspended from the curb exchange. Suspension of the firm was not due to weakness in any particular stocks sponsored by the company, one of the partners said, but to "frozen" assets. It also was indicated that the firm could have no difficulties in meeting its obligations in full if the stock market continued its present firm showing.

AMERMAN RETURNS
After six weeks during which he made trips through Arizona, New Mexico and over the border into Mexico, G. L. Amerman was at his home at 331 Forty-sixth street today.

U. C. EDITOR
OUSTER HIT

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—UP.—Leaders of a peaceful rebellion against the University of California student body's executive committee claimed tonight they had signed a petition of 1400 students opposed to dismissal by the committee of their editor, Arthur M. Arlett.

Since only 930 signatures are required for petitions demanding any referendum at the university, it was apparent that an election would be held to determine whether the dismissal of Arlett from high office on the Daily Californian was justified.

A victory for Arlett in this election would be hollow, however, because it could not be held sooner than Dec. 5, when Arlett's term expires. It is probable that the election would follow that date.

Arlett was removed from office on the ground of incompetency, but the action closely followed his "censure" by the executive committee for editorials he had written following a 74 to 0 victory by the University of Southern California's football team over California's Bears. Notice of the "censure" was sent to U. S. C. where students had resented certain interpretations placed on Arlett's editorials and felt they were accusations that their football players were "subsidized. They accepted the action as a California "apology."

The petitions circulated in behalf of Arlett were signed by many members of the football team and other athletes. They were taken to every fraternity and sorority house in an effort to swell the total number of signatures far above the number required. The petitions said those whose signatures were attached felt the committee's action "is imperiling the only vestige of control over the executive committee."

GRID TRAIN NOT TO STOP HERE

St. Mary's victorious Gaels with their coach, Ed "Slip" Madigan are scheduled to pass through Richmond this morning at 7:24 on the Southern Pacific's "Gold Coast" limited on their way to San Francisco and Oakland where public receptions have been arranged for them.

Unless there is a passenger aboard the train, who is to detain here, no stop will be made. A delegation of Richmond football fans are expected to be on hand to greet the gridiron warriors when they pass through. Should a stop be made by demonstration is likely to be staged for the Californians.

Martinez will be one of the first cities in the county to greet the men from Moraga when the train arrives there at 8:45 a. m. Mayor Raymond Claeys, with members of the city council and Chamber of Commerce plan to greet the men.

Martinez municipal band is also to be present to greet the men during the few minutes the train is scheduled to be in the city.

AT CARQUINEZ
Guests registered at Hotel Carquinez last night were: J. R. Walters, Fresno; Mr. and Mrs. H. Barney, Wilmington; Francis R. Becker, Marysville; Lee Van Gundy, Fresno.

YOUTH DYING IN CYCLE CRASH

OFFICERS

The Richmond Real Estate board last night merged with the Contra Costa County Real Estate board.

This action was taken at a session of representatives of the county and local groups held in the Hotel Carquinez.

Through this action, the local board has gone out of existence and the Richmond realtors will combine their efforts with the county group.

The first meeting of the combined boards will be held in Martinez Dec. 11 officers will be elected at that time.

The Richmond board was at one time a member of the county group. Then two years ago it broke away from the parent organization and established the local board.

The decision to merge with the county group was made after long consideration of the problems faced by the county and Richmond realtors.

It was decided that unity and strength would be gained by the merger.

D. W. Watson, who was recently elected president of the California Real Estate association, is a member of the county board. He will be installed into office in January at the Hotel Oakland.

It was decided last night that the county board will attend the installation in a body.

U. S. Moves To Keep Wheat Up

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—UP.—A further decline in domestic wheat prices seems unwarranted and the federal government has taken steps consequently to see that present price levels do not go lower, George S. Milnor, president of the grain stabilization corporation, announced tonight.

The corporation, affiliated with the federal farm board, recently pegged the price of December wheat on the Chicago exchange at about 73 cents a bushel, by buying all grain offered at that figure.

"Disturbed economic conditions throughout the world were augmented during the last week by unsettled conditions in foreign grain markets," Milnor said. Continued shipments of wheat from Russia depressed European prices. Much uncertainty prevailed in regard to Canadian conditions, all of which resulted in drastic declines in wheat futures in all foreign markets.

"It was fortunate," he continued, "that the stabilization corporation could take prompt action to prevent disastrous foreign conditions spreading to the grain markets of the United States."

Local Lodge Of Moose Hears Talk

Life of J. C. Penney was told Richmond Moose last night by the manager of the store which bears his name.

Marion Hazelton, manager of the store in this city also demonstrated in a comedy skit how dress models might be used. Hazelton delivered the talk on the life of Penney.

The Richmond lodge will not meet next Thursday, E. B. Lowery, dictator announced.

Plans for the "Hayseed" dance night Dec. 29 were furthered last night.

Cottage To Be Built In City

C. W. Delaney will soon begin construction of a $37,000 cottage and garage on the east side of Twenty-third street between Clinton and Roosevelt avenues.

Divorce For Medic With Nosey Mate

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—UP.—His wife's jealousy of his women patients caused Dr. Gregory Isakson to seek a divorce today in the court of Superior Judge Thomas F. Graham.

The physician testified that while he was calling on women patients his wife would sit in his automobile, tooting the horn, and when a woman visited him at his office his wife would make occasional inspections to see that the proprieties were being observed.

Judge Graham held that this constituted extreme cruelty and granted the divorce.

GALE DEATH
TOLL GROWS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 20.—UP.—Residents of the storm wrecked village of Bethany near here started, tonight, to rebuild their crushed homes and bury their dead.

For the first time since a cyclone struck before noon yesterday killing 24, injuring more than 100 and wrecking 100 homes and business establishments, order was restored in the settlement of 2000 inhabitants. Rehabilitation was started with almost every charitable organization in the state lending a hand.

Doctors, treating injured in Oklahoma City hospitals, announced more than 40 still are being treated. Funeral arrangements have not been completed, except for the four Camel Creek students, who were killed when the little rural school was destroyed by the winds. They will be buried at their schoolhouse.

Damage done to the village, located five miles from here, will reach $600,000, officials agreed.

The refugees today first turned towards repairing damage done their Nazarene church so that religious services can be resumed immediately and funeral services held for the victims.

The suburban village is composed entirely of Nazarenes. Sale of cigarettes is forbidden in the town and there is no moving picture show.

An emergency relief fund of $30,000, asked today by the Red Cross, had been nearly subscribed by night. Gov. W. J. Holloway personally directed organization of relief agencies.

Harvester Company
Shows Slight Gain

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—UP.—Dividends of the International Harvester company, $70,000,000 farm equipment manufacturing firm, will be maintained on common stock at the present rate throughout 1931, George A. Ranney, vice president and treasurer, announced today.

"Present estimates of earnings for 1930 indicate a substantial margin over common dividend requirements," said Ranney's statement. "The dividend undoubtedly will be earned next year."

"The statement was issued, he said, "to assure stockholders that the general industrial depression and consequent effect on corporate earnings" will affect their dividends.

Local Man Freed
Of Petty Theft Count

MARTINEZ, Nov. 20.—Return of a bed he was alleged to have taken from a rented house today brought about dismissal of a charge of petty theft against Steve Trenton, 25 of 218 Twenty-first street, Richmond.

Trenton pleaded not guilty to the charge and demanded a jury trial after Frank Price, owner of the house had sworn out a warrant for his arrest.

It was claimed by Trenton that he was charged with the theft of a charge of petty theft against Steve Trenton, 25 of 218 Twenty-first street, Richmond.

SUICIDE STORY OF PAIR HELD
'REHEARSED'

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 20.—UP.—District Attorney Stanley Meyers charged today that Nelson C. Bowles, millionaire, Miss Irma C. Loucks, his sweetheart, and Dr. Paul B. Cooper held a rehearsal concerning the story they would tell authorities, while Bowles' wife was dying in the next room from a bread knife wound over her heart.

Bowles, pacing a cell at police headquarters, and Miss Loucks in a semi-hysterical condition at St. Vincent's hospital, were held without bail under formal charges of murder.

The county prosecutor said their story that Mrs. Bowles took her own life may be true, but added that "we will do all in our power to check it thoroughly."

Doctor Talks
It was the confession of Dr. Cooper—a relative of Bowles—that he had made false statements in his original story concerning the time of Mrs. Bowles' death that resulted in murder charges against the pair. Dr. Cooper was held as a material witness following his confession.

The physician, who was summoned by Bowles, first testified that Mrs. Bowles died 20 minutes after he arrived at Miss Loucks' (Continued on Page 8)

Burke Council
Has Anniversary

Twenty-three years ago last night Burke council, Y. M. I. was organized.

Last night four members of the original body were present who took the crown met with Sonoma Council No. 54 to observe the anniversary.

Thirty-five of the Sonoma council members chartered a bus to make the trip here. They were accompanied by Father Cleary, former pastor of Our Lady of Mercy church, and former chaplain of Burke council.

Father Crotty was also present, and he along with Father Cleary were among the speakers of the evening.

Expressions from the visiting delegation along with remarks from members of the Burke council on their plans for the future, were made.

A banquet was served after the gathering with Joe Silva, Francis Healy, Henry Soltz, Jerry Riordan, and W. E. Carey, in charge.

The four charter members of the organization present last night were, Pat Gallagher, Pat Mahoney, Mike Bradley and John Shinnick.

Italy Orders Its Youth To Arms

ROME, Nov. 20.—UP.—Compulsory military training for youths of 18 to prepare them "physically and spiritually" for their subsequent regular army service was approved by the cabinet today.

The training will be in the nature of preliminary military instruction prior to the regular period during which Italians must serve in the army under conscription laws, an official announcement of the cabinet's action explained.

The youths will be required to undergo this preliminary training for a period of two years.

Rotary Club Will Hold Meeting Today

Richmond Rotary will hold its Thanksgiving meeting today with the Rev. Ezra Van Duz, pastor of Calvary Presbyterian church, San Francisco as the main speaker.

The meeting will be conducted by the Rev. Alden A. Pratt, who has been named chairman.

Alma Bradeson
In Divorce Plea

MARTINEZ, Nov. 20.—An interlocutory decree of divorce had been granted today to Mrs. Alma E. Bradeson, Richmond, from Jack H. Bradeson. Mrs. Bradeson had her maiden name, Hudson restored in the court order. Cruelty was the charge on which the decree was granted.

BOB COONEY
HURT IN CRASH

A "short ride" on a borrowed motorcycle may prove fatal for Robert Cooney, 24, 929 Pomona avenue, Albany, who was seriously injured in a crash at Pullman avenue and Cutting boulevard at a late hour last night.

A companion, Tony Franke, 2344 Clinton avenue, who was riding on the tandem seat of the motorcycle was not injured.

Cooney, hospital attaches report, suffered a possible basal fracture of the skull, internal injuries, a cut over the right eye, a badly cut right instep and other cuts and bruises.

Borrowed Cycle
Reconstructing the story, police found that James Logan, 133 Seventh street, had borrowed a motorcycle from a friend, Sam Rowe. Logan drove to the Key Clear store on Macdonald avenue, where Cooney is employed.

The youth asked Logan if he could borrow the motorcycle for a short spin. It seems, so police report, that Cooney has been practicing riding a motorcycle.

Logan assented and Cooney on the motorcycle, Franke took his seat upon the tandem seat behind Cooney and they started away.

Cycle Skids
At Cutting boulevard and Pullman avenue, the motorcycle skidded and Cooney lost control of it. He was thrown from the machine to the street. Franke was uninjured.

A passing motorist, Alex Holm, South Thirty-sixth street, picked up Cooney and Franke, bringing them to the emergency hospital. Here the injured youth was treated by Dr. J. J. Arlett.

Police notified Cooney's relatives, who came to Richmond at a late hour last night.

The injured youth, after emergency treatment was taken to Hospital Richmond where he now lies.

HOPE GONE
FOR HUNTER

WINSLOW, Ariz., Nov. 20.—UP.—Hope of finding J. D. Bird, 25, missing hunter, alive waned tonight as a score of national guardsmen and a group of volunteers searched the snow covered hills of southern Navajo country.

It was feared Bird had perished in the blizzard which swept the mountainous regions south of here early this week, and his body now is covered by drifts of snow.

Throughout the day, National Guardsmen, augmented by forest rangers skirmished over the hills trying to locate some clue to Bird's whereabouts.

Bird, a Santa Fe railroad brakeman, became lost last Friday while on a hunting trip with two companions.

Two Women Found
Dead In Canyon

SAWTELLE, Nov. 20.—UP.—Authorities were endeavoring tonight to identify the bodies of two women found floating in the ocean near Santa Monica canyon.

The women, apparently sisters, may have committed suicide in a panic, according to police, since no marks of violence were found on the bodies. They were shabbily dressed and appeared to be about 65 years of age.

The condition of the bodies indicated drowning occurred Wednesday, authorities said.

The clothing of the women bore no marks of identification.

BIRTHS REPORTED

Births of children to three Richmond couples were on file in the city health department today.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Perez had a daughter born to them Nov. 15; Mr. and Mrs. F. Gonzales, became the parents of a son born Nov. 16; while Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Andrade, 7049 Twenty-third street, became the parents of a son born Nov. 18.

SANTA FE FIVE, ROOFERS WIN VICTORIES

The Santa Fe eagles last night went into a triple tie for first place in the A division of the city basketball league by trouncing the Studebakers by a score of 36 to 28.

The Mastercraft Roofers gained a 23 to 11 victory over the Civic Center Tires in B division competition.

In last evening's A division game, Santa Fe showed phenomenal shooting power, sinking fifteen from the center of the floor and from under the basket in quick succession. The Studebakers also made pretty shots from the center of the floor, but they did not make their close shots count to the best advantage.

By winning last night's game, the Santa Fe quintet went into a three-way tie with the McCracken and Odd Fellow athletes. Each of these three teams have each won two games and lost one.

The Mastercraft Roofers held the upper hand during the greater part of their contest with the Civic Center Tires, and at no time were they headed. The Roofers were leading 13 to 7 at half time.

Next Monday evening Santa Fe and McCracken will attempt to break their A division tie. The Civic Center Tires and Ben Malik's five will also tangle on the same card.

The Santa Fe lineup last night included: E. Nelson, 14, Tula, 5, forwards; Gacbury, 4, center; J. Nelson, 11, R. Bowen, guards; substitutes: Babe Roche, 2, forward; A. Roche, guard.

The Studebakers were: Bertone, 10, Dyer, 10, forwards; Math, 2, center; Hutton, 6, Bonham, 6, guards; substitutes: Pasch, guard.

The Mastercraft squad included: Linstead, 10, Bowman, 8, forwards; Duncan, center; Jester, 5, Tandy, guards; substitutes: Brock, guard.

The Civic Center Tires were: Seawright, Sassone, 2, forwards; Rovada, center; Williams, 3, Rungamer, guards; substitutes: Randall, 4, Heeger, forwards; Ferguson, 2, guard.

'Big Game' Lineups Are Announced

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—"Big game" starting lineups were announced today by rival football coaches at the University of California and Stanford universities, as preparation for Saturday's traditional football classic at California Memorial stadium neared completion.

While the Stanford lineup has been pretty well set for nearly a week, changes in the California eleven are still to be expected, despite the fact that Coach C. M. "Nibs" Price named his probable starters today. Price declares that his backfield is not yet definitely chosen and will not be until the day of the game.

An earlier lineup indicated by the California mentor placed Ralph Stone, now in his first season of competition at left end, paired with the veteran Russ Avery; it now appears that Ellis "Togo" Thornton, veteran of two previous campaigns and a real ball hawk, will start in his stead. Stone, however, is certain to get into the game for his defensive ability coupled with his ball-snagging ability make him a valued cog in the Golden Bear machine.

To Golden Bear followers the most heart ening event of the week has been the return to the lineup of Ed Kirwan, quarterback. It now seems likely that he will replace Sheldon Potter at starting time.

Kirwan received a painful rib injury in the St. Mary's game early in October and has placed in no games since that time. However, Price has been trying him out again this week and if Kirwan weathers the final practice sessions without suffering a recurrence of his injury, he is not likely to do so. For his side is shielded by a protective pad devised by Trainer Charley Volz—he will very likely be calling the signal Saturday.

The one definite change in the Golden Bear backfield is the replacement of Joe Hickingbotham at fullback by Clarence "Moose" Garrity. Hickingbotham is, in all probability, to be held in reserve as a halfback rather than as a fullback substitute. With Ed Griffiths and Ray East at the halfback positions a fullback who can kick—and kick well—is essential, since neither East nor Griffiths has shown any great aptitude for the punting game. Garrity, on the other hand, has been placing his kicks well and getting distance in the bargain, which explains his choice by Price.

Coach Glenn S. Warner at Stanford has indicated that he will start the lineup that has played for Stanford at the opening of most of the major contests of the Cardinal season. The one exception is the choice of Ray Hulen in preference to Pete Heiser at left guard.

Reports direct from the Stanford football camp indicate that Captain Ray Tandy, recovering from an injury, will lead his team in the big test, and that Harlow Robert, fullback, will start in preference to Bill Simpkins, although the latter's passing ability may be called into play before the game has progressed far.

RINGER WILL NOT AFFECT TROJANS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20.—UP—Discovery of the presence of Spencer Kirkwood Purvis, a confessed "ringer" on the University of Southern California's football team probably will not affect the university's gridiron victories this season, it was said here tonight.

Purvis who confessed he gained entrance to U. S. C. as a freshman last year by employing false certificates from high school, Wash. was expelled from the Trojan school and started for the northwest shortly after he finished football practice yesterday afternoon.

Purvis, a halfback, entered U. S. C. under the name of George Kirkwood. He made the Trojan team last season and this year was understood to Marger Apsit, one of the U. S. C. regular backfield men.

A person whose identity was kept secret notified U. S. C. officials that Kirkwood really was Purvis and that he had started for College of Puget Sound in the seasons of 1928 and 1929. Purvis at first denied the accusation but later confessed.

He said he came to U. S. C. without solicitation because he wanted to play football at a large university and selected U. S. C. because it was far from Tacoma, his home town.

Officials at U. S. C. said that no decision as to possible forfeiture of games in which Kirkwood played had been reached.

The matter may be brought up at a December meeting of the Pacific coast conference or submitted individually to each school involved.

In the opinion of the general athletic committee and the athletic staff, there is no element in the Kirkwood situation which calls for any further action on the part of the University of Southern California.

A coast conference rule, it was said, requires that to gain forfeiture of a game a participant must protest the eligibility of an opposing player at least 10 days before the game.

Willis O. Hunter, director of athletics at the Trojan institution, issued the following statement:

"In the case of George Kirkwood, administration and athletic officials have made every effort to see that justice has been meted out swiftly and thoroughly in accordance with Pacific coast conference regulations.

"All facts that we have been able to obtain in the matter have already been given to the press. Kirkwood, or Spencer Kirkwood Purvis, which he now admits to be his real name, has confessed that he entered the university under an assumed name and with false credentials prepared in such a manner that the university was unable to detect any irregularities.

"When information regarding Kirkwood's case was made to university authorities all machinery of the institution was used in attempting to learn the true facts. Every effort has been made in the past to see that our athletics are as clean as it is possible for administration and athletic authorities to make them, and the dispatch with which the Kirkwood case was handled is indicative of the fact that we are always ready to do our utmost to keep our house clean."

Oregon State To Meet Uclans At L. A. Tonight

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20.—UP—In preparation for their game tomorrow night, the football teams of Oregon State college and the University of California at Los Angeles, held practice sessions under the lights of the Coliseum tonight.

U. C. L. A. surrendered the hold to the northerners after a two-hour workout.

Coach Paul J. Schissler of the Beavers said today that three of his star backfield men may not be called upon to play unless their services are badly needed. The players, Cecil Sherwood, Ralph Burke and Hal Moe, were bruised in last Saturday's game and will be given a much needed rest if possible.

Oregon State is doped to defeat the Bruins by at least two touchdowns.

Rambling Irish Hold Practice
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 20.—UP—A glimpse behind the scenes today at the Notre Dame football squad in preparation for its meeting with the undefeated Northwestern eleven Saturday revealed Knute Rockne's everlasting attention to every detail.

One hundred and fifty players scattered over the practice field and every one of them, from all-America quarterback Frank Carideo down to the lowliest substitute, were every minute at learning his job in a vast football factory.

No player can loaf mentally or physically during the daily two hours drill and get by with it. Rockne or one of his half dozen assistants, all former Notre Dame players, will catch him. And the secret of Notre Dame's football success is every man wide awake doing his job at all times on practice field or in a game.

ONETAH GROUP CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Twenty-three candles representing that many years Onetah council, Degree of Pochontas has been in existence were lighted last night as a large gathering of the membership and Redmen sat around the banquet table.

Three charter members were present at the gathering to whom special tribute was paid. The cake bore their names. They were: Sera Penny, Elizabeth Waddingham, and Ann Lautenschlager. Mae Mathos' name was also on the cake.

Mrs. Louise Swartout baked the cake. Green and yellow flowers decorated the tables. A. B. Hinkley was toastmaster.

Talks from the charter members along with a few words from others present were heard during the evening. Minnie Jaquith decorated the tables.

Those responsible for the banquet were: Ruby Hodson, Julia Miskal, and Ethel Rodbeck.

Next Tuesday the lodge will play whist at which time a large gathering is expected.

St. Paul's Church Plans Whist Party

St. Paul's church will sponsor a large benefit whist party this evening in Red Men's hall. Two shifts will be held, the first starting at seven o'clock and the second at nine o'clock. A $10 door prize and turkey orders will be presented.

Arrangements for the party are being directed by Father Egisto Tozzi.

HONOR POST AUXILIARY AT MEETING

Mrs. Ethel Aloro presided as head of Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary for the first time last night.

Members of the organization were present in their praise of the manner in which she conducted the office following the close of the meeting.

A surprise supper awaited Mrs. Aloro prepared by Mrs. Nina Vickery and Mrs. George Imbach. The surprise was enjoyed by the entire group.

George Imbach brought the greetings of Veterans of Foreign Wars. At that time he declared the post would back the auxiliary in their plans and predicted a banner year for the groups.

One of the first steps of the new organization head was to lay plans for a membership drive. Development of the plans are expected to be made at the next meeting. Whist was played during the latter part of the evening.

Mrs. Aloro appointed the following committees to assist her during her term: Relief, Mrs. Minnie Davis; Mrs. Mastalia; and Mrs. Seeger; social, Mrs. Mayers; Mrs. Heeger; and Mrs. Burke; visiting, Mrs. Mabel Davis; Mrs. Rhea Hunt and Mrs. Dorothy Conn; sewing club, Mrs. Veasey; Mrs. Burke; and Mrs. Perry.

LUTHERANS TO ENTERTAIN AT BIG BAZAAR

Grace Lutheran church will this afternoon and evening hold a colorful old-time country fair at the church, on the corner of Thirtieth street and Barrett avenue.

The exhibit of antiques collected from the cellars and attics of Richmond will attract much interest at the bazaar. There will also be booths for gift articles, fancy work, notions, aprons and candy.

The atmosphere of an old time fair will be present, as hawkers will cry their wares and merchants will conduct their colorful booths.

A cafeteria supper will be served from five to seven o'clock with Mrs. E. J. Evans in charge. The public is invited to attend.

A program will be presented during the afternoon and evening by Mrs. W. H. Page.

Mrs. Thomas H. Webster is directing plans for the bazaar.

F. B. LODGE ENTERTAINED AT MEETING

The Fraternal Brotherhood was visited by two state officials last night when they met in session after the junior order had gathered at 4 o'clock and later enjoyed a pot-luck supper.

J. J. May of Los Angeles and W. E. Collins were the two officials who were special guests. These two men had been attending the fraternal congress in Sacramento and reported on progress organizations were making throughout the state.

Tonight members of the Richmond group will go to Oakland to greet Hayden Arrowsmith, president of the state organization.

After the formal meeting old-time and modern dancing was enjoyed after which refreshments were served.

DRUIDS WILL HOLD MEETING HERE TONIGHT

New officers of Point Richmond Circle No. 123 will conduct their first meeting tonight when the group gathers in Druid hall.

Arch-Druidess Flo Agresta will preside at the meeting which will be followed by a drill. Refreshments will be served by Minetta Rubbiano and Vera Santhai after the meeting.

Womens Group To Hold Meet Today

An afternoon tea and a mite box offering will be the features of this afternoon's meeting of Women's Home Missionary society at First Methodist church.

A program has also been planned for the affair which was scheduled to start at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Roy Ruth is chairman of the event.

Standard Bearers Will Entertain With Play Tonight

A pot luck dinner will be held by the Standard Bearers of Wesley church this evening at 5:30 o'clock at the church.

A dramatization will be presented tonight on Chapter 1, "Bible Women and Evangelists" from "A Cloud of Witnesses." The cast includes:

President, Helen Jackson; Mrs. Johnson, Emily Stribley; Mrs. Anderson, Selma Rust; Mrs. Brown, Marjorie Vestal; Mrs. Clark, Anna Bengtson; secretary, Ariene Ellis; Mrs. Erwin, Phyllis Walbank; Mrs. Foster, Valerie M'Is; Mrs. Green, Beulah McKay; Mrs. Hutchins, Evelyn Yeadon; Mrs. Irish, Jessie Woolley; Mrs. James, Margaret Conn; Mrs. Kelley, Florence Christopher; Mrs. Lawrence, Jessie McKenzie; Mrs. Marvin, Sarah Walte, and treasurer, Reba Sanders. Plans will also be discussed this evening for the District Young People's rally to be held soon.

Missouri Club To Pay Honor To Famous Author

The birthday anniversary of Mark Twain will be celebrated Nov. 29 by members of the local Missouri club in South Richmond Improvement club. The famous writer was a Missourian by birth. The festivities will start with a seven o'clock dinner. An entertainment and dance will follow. Members and their invited friends may attend.

Preparations for the affair are being handled by Mrs. Ethel Butler.

Richmond Rebekahs To Enjoy Short Skit

Tonight's meeting of Richmond Rebekah Lodge No. 266 will be featured by a play entitled "The Cat's Pajamas." The production will be presented by West Side members of the lodge.

There will also be a unique sewing contest staged between George E. Black and James Blackett. Idrys Linebaugh will preside this evening.

Nui Club Will Hold Meeting Today

Members of the Nui Sewing club will be entertained today at the home of Mrs. Miriam Williams, 626 Thirty-fifth street. Mrs. Lowell R. Sears will act as co-hostess.

HALL GROUP ENTERTAINS AT WHIST

Odd Fellows hall association last night greeted a capacity gathering at their whist party attended by Rebekahs and Odd Fellows.

C. C. TEMPLE SEWING CLUB PLANS PARTY

Fourteen women attended the all day session of Contra Costa temple sewing club, where plans for the Christmas party to be given for members and families were made.

A turkey dinner will be the featured of the Christmas party at which time Santa Claus will appear to hand gifts from the tree to be received for the event.

At yesterday's meeting were: Mrs. Lulu Mortenson, Mrs. Mae Mortenson, Barbara Opman, Frances Michel, Florence Tosh, Alwina Munson, Maude Grice, Juanita De Barrows, Anna Bowyer, Mosetta Pitzer, Gertrude Bardsley, Josephine Lambie, Rita De Barrows, and Mrs. Allison.

WAR MOTHERS ENTERTAIN WITH WHIST

A successful whist party was given yesterday by the Richmond War Mothers in Memorial hall for the benefit of the veterans.

Prizes were won at the whist by: Mrs. E. L. Campbell, Mrs. M. McNeill, Mrs. Woodbury, Mrs. J. McGrath, Mrs. M. Simpson, Mrs. Simpson also won the door prize awarded at the affair.

Mrs. Wicks was chairman of the event, which was exceptionally well attended. Fine work was done by the party committees, and the public turned out well to the affair.

St. Mark's Church Will Entertain With Whist Party

St. Mark's Catholic church will this Saturday hold a whist party to be one of the largest turkey whist parties of the year. The party will be given in two shifts at Red Men's hall. The first shift will start at 7:15 and the second at 9:15.

There will be a large number of turkey orders for prizes, and a door prize of a turkey order will also be presented.

The whist is being planned by the ladies of the church headed by Father Ryan.

Mrs. Robert Grice Paid Honor With Birthday Party

Mrs. Robert Grice honored her mother Mrs. Lulu Mortenson with a party given at the former's home on the latter's birthday this week.

Chrysanthemums decorated the room, while orchid and yellow were the table colors. A social time was enjoyed after the luncheon attended by the following: Mrs. Emma Allison, Mrs. Jennie Allen, Barbara Opman, Dorothy Streeter, Mrs. A. Bethers, Mae Mortenson, Mrs. Lulu Mortenson, Mrs. Gladys Mortenson and Marjorie Streeter.

W. Williams Is Paid Honor With Birthday Party

A birthday party given in honor of W. Williams by his daughter, Mrs. C. H. Nissen was enjoyed by a social gathering of family friends.

Persons present at the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hege, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Monk, Mr. and Mrs. Bowers and Mr. and Mrs. Nissen.

Prizes Awarded At Onetah Group Whist Party

Awards were made to Mrs. M. Carr and John Clark for high scores at Onetah Council, Degree of Pochontas's whist party held yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Carr was awarded first and door prizes.

Ruby Hodson was chairman of the event.

LOS ANGELES TO STUDY AID TO JOBLESS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20.—UP—The county board of supervisors today extended invitations to 30 prominent business men and representatives of civic organizations to serve on a committee to study unemployment conditions in Los Angeles county.

Among those invited to serve on the committee were:

Russell H. Ballard, president of the Southern California Edison Co.; R. C. Baldwin, president of the Federated Church Brotherhood; W. H. Brewer, president of the Santa Fe Railway company; H. B. R. Briggs, publisher; E. G. De Staute, president of Southern California Retail Merchants' association; Guy Earl, publisher; Paul Manchester, publisher; Paul Graham, president Gran Brothers, Long Beach; Harvey C. Freming, president Long Beach Central Labor council; C. C. Teague, president California Walnut Growers' association; William F. Prisk, Long Beach publisher; George Young, publisher, and Harry Chandler, publisher.

The committee will consider the following phases of the county unemployment situation:

The causes of unemployment.

Feasibility of a proposal that workers be placed on a basis of a four or five day working week.

Recommend a sane program providing emergency aid to residents of city and county who are now suffering through inability to find work and:

To determine a way through which equity home owners may be protected against confiscation of their property because they can not meet taxes and assessments.

apartment. After persistent questioning he is said to have confessed he had misrepresented the facts—that Mrs. Bowles was dead a few minutes before he reached the apartment.

The body of the pretty, young society matron was removed to an undertaker's parlor before police or the coroner was notified and as a result Dr. Cooper stands charged with violation of the state law prohibiting removal of a body following a violent death before authorities are summoned.

Story Checked
While the district attorney and police checked many matters pertaining to the death, no one was permitted to interrogate Miss Loucks. A police physician said she was in no condition to be questioned. A police guard remained at her door.

The former stenographer of Bowles, who graduated from West High school, Salt Lake City, in 1920, was said to be in a highly nervous state from successive days of questioning since Mrs. Bowles' death on the morning of November 12.

Mrs. Bowles' parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Cronkite, of Yakima, engaged John A. Collier, outstanding criminal lawyer in the northwest, to represent them at the preliminary hearing in municipal court which probably will be held within a few days. The coroner's inquest has been postponed indefinitely due to filing of murder charges.

Minister Held On New Charges

PETALUMA, Nov. 20.—UP—A complaint charging a statutory felony and naming the Rev. Hugh Brunk, 38, who was recently dismissed from the pastorate of the First Christian church here, was signed today by Justice of the peace J. C. Gallagher at the request of W. A. Shulte, probation officer.

Authorities took this action after investigating the story of Ruby Fees, 17, an orphan and ward of the Sonoma juvenile court, who was employed to do house work in the minister's home.

Martinez High May Break With Pittsburg Team

MARTINEZ, Nov. 20.—With Antioch definitely in a break with Pittsburg high school over alleged unsportsmanlike conduct, Alhambra high school, who protested the playing of Parson Ramalia, Pittsburg star, was still undecided today what they would do concerning the football war that is now raging among the three schools.

The signed statement from Antioch made public today stated why the break in relations was made. Roger Phelps, principal and Wayne L. Hawkins and Roy T. Vick, coaches declared the tactics of Pittsburg were injurious to their players to such an extent that they did not wish to take chances of being maimed for life in future games.

Pittsburg retaliated by declaring that three competent officials had charged the game when the alleged offenses were committed and no unusual penalties were inflicted. The game was won by Pittsburg 25 to 6.

Alhambra students were circulating a petition seeking a break with Pittsburg, but they did not cite any reason for the proposed action. Some however declared it was the same reason that Antioch broke relations.

It was said by the Pittsburg principal that the officials who were in charge of the game complimented Coach Bryan for the sportsmanlike manner in which his team played. This compliment, it was said, was made in the presence of Jimmy Hole, Berkeley high school coach who was present to scout the Pittsburg team.

Pittsburg, it was said, will be glad to relinquish the county title, and forfeit the post season games in order to meet Berkeley in this section of the C. I. P. title play.

SHORT SESSION READY FOR SOLONS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—UP—The process of law-making as it is practiced nowadays already has started on Capitol Hill.

Personal conferences, press conferences, and "trial balloons" to test public sentiment; meetings with governmental chiefs; and public interpretations of what the elections meant—all these are going on as energetically as when congress is in session.

The winter session, which meets December 1 and is adjourned by the constitution on March 3 midnight, is a high pressure affair, because of the short time allowed. Individually nearly everyone wants something.

Consequently, execution of President Hoover's idea of restricting legislation this winter to appropriations and non-controversial relief appropriations is one of the hardest jobs the Republican leadership ever faced.

Republican Leader James E. Watson, discussing the senate's legislative program today, said persons, not policies, should be the opening business. He wants to take up some of the many appointments, including the tariff commissioners, before considering legislation.

Senator William E. Borah, Republican, Idaho, foresees that such discussions can be concluded in a few days.

Despite diverse views of congressmen on proposed legislation there is virtual unanimity on one thing—everyone favors large appropriations for public works and other public projects to provide more work.

County Assessor Faces Indictment

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 20.—UP—George W. Moulton, county assessor was being held in the sheriff's office here tonight under indictment of the county grand jury on four counts of grand theft and embezzlement of county funds.

Moulton, arrested a short time after the indictments were returned this afternoon, had been unable to raise the $30,000 bond set by the court.

Moulton recently was defeated for reelection. Repeated attempts of the grand jury to have Moulton appear before that body to explain an unreconciled discrepancy of $25,000 in his personal property tax collection records were futile. Moulton failed to answer the grand jury's summons.

Today's indictments followed an investigation carried on for more than two months.

NO EXCUSE FOR A "SPLITTING HEAD"

There's no need for an aching head to spoil your day. At the first warning throbs take Dillard's Aspergum. Chew it a few minutes. Almost before you realize it, you have chewed the pain away. MORATORIUM PLANNED BY GERMANY

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—UP—Dr. Julian Curtius, foreign minister, declared today that as soon as Germany's financial and economic household has been put in order the government intends to examine the entire problem of reparations payments with an eye to the desirability of declaring a moratorium.

In a speech before the federal council—a sort of upper chamber in the Reichstag—the foreign minister minced no words in declaring that Germany intended to consider a moratorium as a "protective measure" for national freedom.

He abandoned vague generalities and hit the nails of Germany's foreign policy on the head. Curtius devoted his significant speech to three major subjects:

The advisability subsequently of a moratorium.

A demand that the League of Nations swiftly convene a world disarmament conference without further bickerings or delay.

Revision of the Treaty of Versailles.

The scholarly minister, outlining his entire concept of Germany's future foreign policies, spoke earnestly of his plans. He insisted that Germany did not intend to tear up the Young Plan.

"But we never guaranteed the plan's ability to function," he asserted.

Referring to the possibility of a future reparations moratorium, Dr. Curtius said:

"Nobody today knows whether measures for ordering our own household will suffice, or when we must take international steps foreseen in the treaties, to protect our economy and currencies."

"The foreign countries must understand that the Reich government, after enforcing its financial program, must continually ask itself whether it should not also resort to those protective measures."

The Young plan includes clauses permitting Germany to declare a moratorium on certain reparations payments, as "protective measures."

Germany, like many other nations, has been affected by the present world depression, Dr. Curtius intimated. He referred to the "land slide" in world economic conditions since the drafting of the Young plan. Conditions now and then are different, he insisted.

The foreign minister, however, gave assurance that Germany would resort to moratorium privileges only after cautiously examining all factors. He indicated only force of circumstances beyond the government's control would cause the consideration of a moratorium.

Child Mangled By Show Leopard

LITTLE FIELD, Tex., Nov. 20.—UP—Funeral services were held here today for four year old James Elvins, mangled in a drug store by a carnival leopard on exhibition.

Wrath of Little Field citizens caused officials to be alert for any attempted reprisals tonight. The leopard was rushed from the state and placed in a zoo at Clovis, N. M. and its owner, Charles Howard, was removed to a Plain View jail. Charges of negligent homicide were filed against him.

Railroads Will Employ More Men

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—UP—Employment of as many men as possible this winter in further improvements both in line and equipment was pleaded unanimously today by men who guide the nation's railroads.

The association of railway executives, meeting in annual session, decided in the face of adverse earnings reports to continue the policy of development adopted at the suggestion of President Hoover a year ago.

THE WOMAN OF IT

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall

The Proposal to Solve the Unemployment Problem at the Expense of Women Workers

WOMEN who earn—ten million of them, according to the 1930 census—are naturally disturbed to read in the news the proposal, emanating from several different sources, that the unemployment problem be solved at the expense of certain women workers. Here, apparently, is a new outcropping of that latent male hostility against which women have had to fight ever since they first began—not to work, most women have always worked—but to collect a certain amount of real money as their pay. It is now advanced, as a solution for unemployment, that all married women workers "who do not need to work" shall be fired forthwith.

Never mind if they are experienced and efficient. Never mind if they think they need the jobs—their critics, presumably, know better and will decide for them.

Never mind that no male worker is to be even interrogated as to whether he "needs to work"—let alone discharged on the blind assumption that he doesn't.

What's sauce for the goose is never sauce for the gander, if he has anything to say about it. Ladies first—even on the firing line!

THE Federation of Labor in Cedar Rapids, according to report, is conducting a campaign to oust married women from the positions they occupy in business and to replace them with jobless men. The Commerce Trust Company, the largest financial institution in Kansas City, announced recently that, because of the unemployment situation, it will not employ married women in the future and its unemployed women workers will be replaced when they marry.

The Active Workers' Association of the Order of Independent Americans presented a petition to the Philadelphia Board of Education, asking that married women employed in the public schools as teachers "whose husbands are earning a proper livelihood" (just who is to be the arbiter of that delicate question?) be dismissed. "Dismiss all the married teachers in the public schools who have not been widowed or who are not sole supporters of families, and also call on all employers of women to replace them with married men," is the amiable suggestion, in a letter to The Evening World, for solving the unemployment problem.

Even in the radio news, according to our aroused correspondent, Louise Rice, "I hear a male voice highly indignant over the fact that quite a number of women who are married and whose husbands can afford to support them have jobs in the schools. There's a movement on foot, he says, to find out who has this 'visible means of support' and throw her back into said support, in order that men and women who 'need the money' shall have the jobs."

"All right," Louise Rice comments, "BUT, if they do this, I demand that they shall ask every man in what ever job he is, whether he needs to work or not."

"Women are people, and I want to know what anybody means by regarding their right to work by whether they can find a man to support them or not. I want to know if the same rule will be applied to men, even in the schools. Will ANY man who is an educator EVER be asked, 'Do you have to work?' If not, please step down and give your place to some man who needs the work and the money that you are now getting."

"Mind you, I'm not objecting to the principle of seeing that jobs go, first, to the most efficient; and, next, to those who need them most. But I strenuously object to the principle that women shall be tried by that method and not men."

SOME of us or any other of the country's ten million paid women workers object. Their platform is not only equal pay for equal work but equal rights to whatever work is going. It seems to us high time to drop the old assumption that any considerable group of women—married or unmarried—is working for no money, instead of for bread-and-butter money.

Surveys made by the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor have proved repeatedly that most married women wage-earners are working not to treat themselves to personal luxuries, but to raise their families' living standards—or even to provide these families with the actual necessities of life.

In a report by the Ohio Consumers' League on a typical group of married women workers in that state, only thirty-four out of 550 were working from choice—all the others held jobs because their husbands were ill, or unemployed, or insufficiently paid.

In another study of a group of married women who sought employment in Denver, it was found that nine-tenths of the applicants were driven by sheer need to work outside the home.

For that matter, who except herself is in a position to judge whether any paid married woman worker does or does not "need" her salary? She is not publishing her family budget to the world. In many families the problem of meeting children's educational needs is a "need" which no one salary can satisfy.

In other instances, when both husband and wife are working, what outsider knows of the "extra" he has had to take, or of how precarious is his tenure of his job? Why should a woman, in these times and especially if she has children, be expected to give up what money she can honestly earn, even if her husband is (for the moment) "able to support" her—when tomorrow he may come home with the news that he is laid off until things begin to pick up?

As Mary V. Robinson of the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor reminds us, women in large numbers, both married and single, were employed to go out and do men's work, only a few years ago, during the World War. "And now," she points the irony, "women are being denounced as usurpers of men's jobs."

She believes, and so do we, that Armistice Day is a fitting time "to call for a truce and the cessation of attacks upon the right and need of every jobless man, as well as single ones, to jobs. The Women's Bureau studies disclose that the great majority of these workers seek employment because of economic need and family responsibilities. Surely women are entitled to a more stable employment status than that of fitting into jobs or not, according to whether it suits men's purposes and pursuits, or whether the Nation is at war or at peace."

Comfort for Cold Feet

ONE woman who enjoys home comforts received a birthday gift and she is delighted with it.

It is about the usual size, from two and a quarter to two and a half yards long, and from fifty to sixty inches wide, but it has a foot pocket about half a yard deep, which she especially appreciates, for she likes to slip off her shoes when resting.

She spreads the comfortable flat on the chair, and as she reclines on it she draws the ends around her and puts her feet into the pocket.

This might be used on the job bed, and perhaps even on a sofa, for a mind who suffers from cold feet on winter nights—then put this item on your Christmas shopping list.

A DISH A DAY

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

When vegetables and fruits are low in price, even the housewife with a fairly moderate budget can ignore cheap cuts of meat occasionally and offer a main course at dinner which ordinarily would seem the wildest extravagance. Of course, if the housewife is going to insist on imported endive at 80 cents a pound for the salad and intends to order her dinner ready-made from the bakers, my counsel would be to study the meat bargains and make the main course a ragout of lamb from the cheaper cuts.

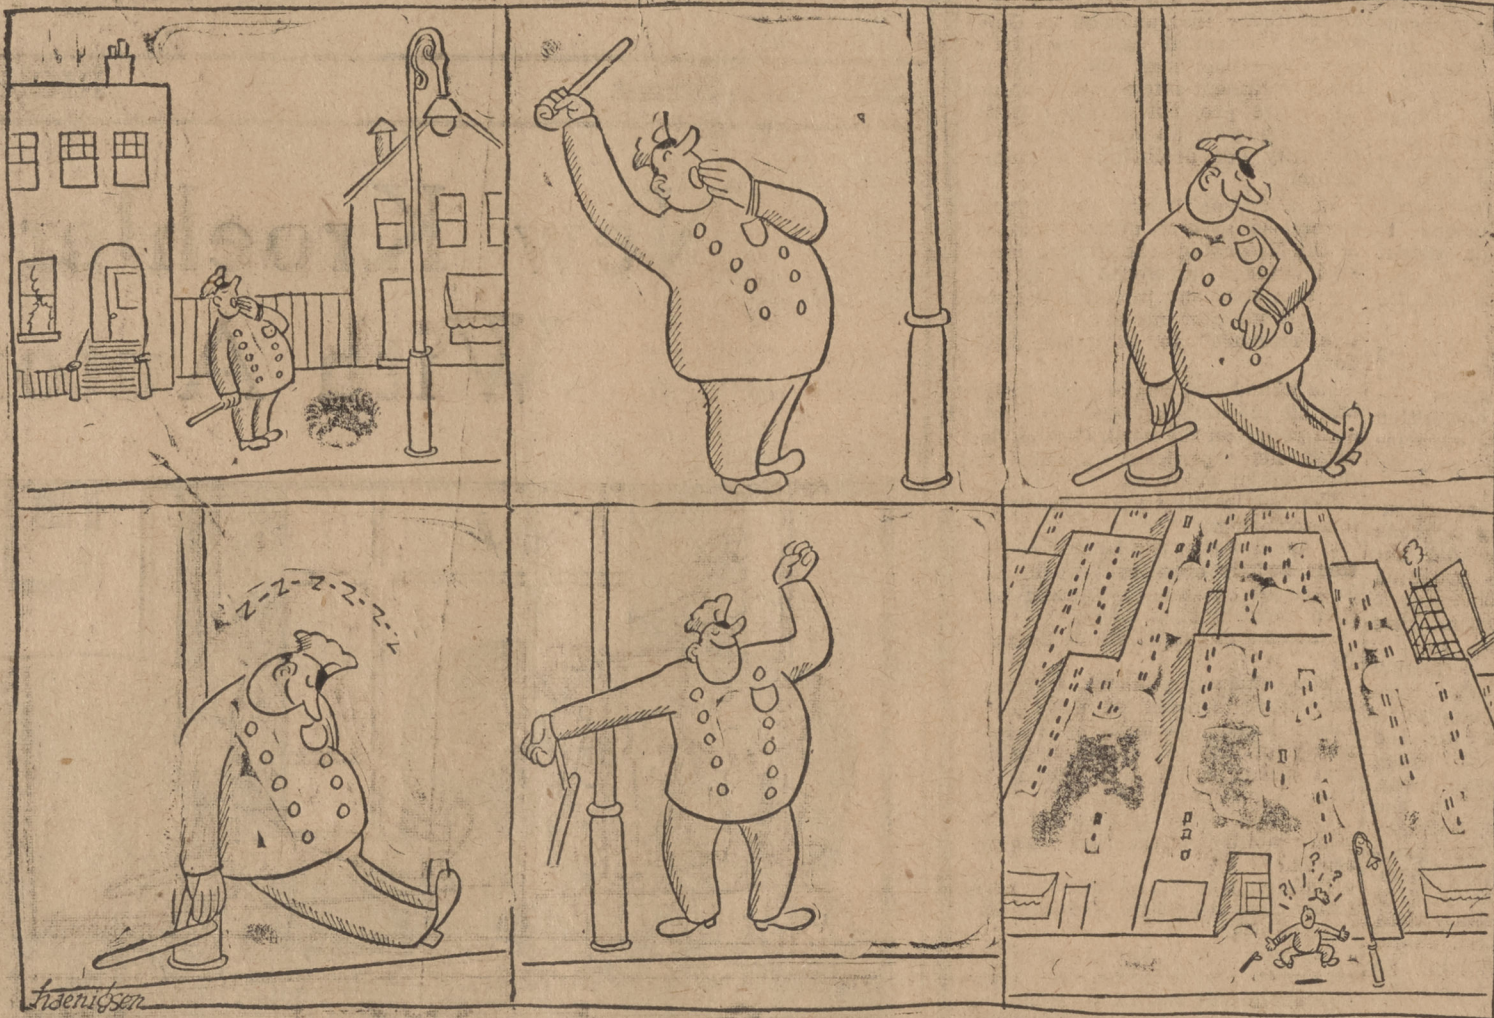

KAREN HOLLIS. Even at that her expenditures will be large.

Rub each piece of chicken with salt, pepper and celery salt, then roll on cornmeal. Arrange in a buttered casserole and dot with pieces of butter. Add one and one-half cups of milk to which bay leaf has been added, cover casserole and bake in a moderate oven for about one and one-half hours, or until tender. Remove the cover of the casserole and let chicken brown, turning the lower pieces to the top so all will be evenly browned. When all are crisp and golden, remove to a hot platter, blend the flour with part of the remaining milk and add with rest of the milk to the liquid in the casserole. Remove bay leaf and stir milk gravy until thickened. Pour around chicken and sprinkle with minced parsley.

Quick Method to Make the Skin Clearer, Softer, Firmer and Glowing

By Frances Oliver

THIS is an article on quick beauty for the busy. We might also add the lazy. Because the beautifier we are going to talk about happens to be equally beneficial, equally magical in its effects upon the lady who has no time as well as the one who won't make time.

It is as old as Egypt and as new as hundred-story skyscrapers. It has been variously known and called face pack, clay pack and mask. We think mask is the nicest name for it, because it in no way suggests the old-fashioned clay pack, with its unfavorable after-effects on delicate skins.

For the benefit of those of you who are unfamiliar with this type of skin preparation, a beauty mask is a gorgeous goo which is plastered over the skin, left on for twenty minutes or longer and then washed off. And if it is a really good, really efficient mask it will leave the skin clearer, smoother, softer, firmer and glowing with a lovely glow. What is more, there will be no unpleasant reactions, like sagging or drying of the skin.

How can you be sure of getting a good, really efficient beauty mask? By selecting one of reputable manufacture. There are at least five reliable "masks" of beauty mask on the market today.

But now just a little word of warning. Don't let this quick-acting beautifier "spoil" you. It is not intended to take the place of the daily creaming and lotioning. Nor, in fact, can it. The mask is a specialty to be used on "occasions." Get your skin used to it and somehow it loses its "magic."

Luckily, not everybody can afford a steady diet of beauty masks. The cost of them cost at least three times as much as a jar of good cleansing cream. . . . There is wisdom and economy, you see, in keeping the mask for days when you look a wreck but have to go places—for convalescent periods—and for returns from strange and disagreeable climates. Women who have "let themselves go" to the point of hopelessness find rare comfort and fresh inspiration in the beauty mask. Indeed, the reformation of every face should begin, we believe, with a mask or some such quick-acting beautifier. The psychological effect alone is wonderful.

Sweater and Skirt Combinations High in Favor With Yellow Leading the Brilliant Colors

By Ann Roberts

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930.

THE dear old sweater and skirt combination has taken a new lease on life. Together they're really as smart as can be, for with the return of the separate skirt you can indulge to your heart's content in sweaters.

They must be right though, and marked with this year's stamp of style, or there's nothing to it. Tell me, is there any one item of dress more than a sweater that can step so easily into the dowdy section—and that without half trying? And yet, is there anything smarter when it does hit the high level?

Sweaters are hand knitted—in bright colors, too—three or four of them bunched together and running around in stripes through the sleeves and the body of the thing. They have waistlines pulled in, leaving a nice blouse and proper tightness about the hips. Necklines are V shaped or round. Some of them are belted—this season with wide leather belts, and some of them have scarfs attached and displaying the same rows of stripes that ornament the body of the thing.

Color Rampant

THE colors mark the spot where individuality and smartness step in. Yellow is high fashion and that combined with stripes of white and black or with white and brown—then worn with a rough tweed skirt showing the darker tone and the yellow. There you have something.

Yellow with gray is always good. It will be better this spring and for Palm Beach. That's an idea to keep in mind if you are buying sweaters now and wouldn't hate the idea at all if they carried over smartly into a new season.

Another color combination is navy, coral, light blue and white, the darker tone being the body of the sweater, and the lighter ones making the stripes.

EXAMPLE OF THE STRIPED PULL-ON SWEATER AND THE NEW DOUBLE-BREADED CARDIGAN

Cardigan Ways

THE knitted cardigan, always a staple, now is more so than ever. It is a leader, and it has been designed quite perfectly for interesting sports wear. It has the tightly fitted hip line, and it buttons in a tailored manner, the very newest one being double breasted as shown in the illustration.

The windbreaker with chamoles front and knitted sleeves and back is too useful for words with your sports clothes. It's a case of "once owning it you will never be without it."

Skirts are pleated, mind you. The very smartest of them all being the one with box pleats in a complete circle. So old it is new again—that's the way with the best we have in fashion.

Make them of the bright nubby tweeds in mixtures, red, yellow, green or brown being your key color. Then tone your sweaters to them.

Skirts of jersey have low placed yokes, with skirts attached in pleats at front or on the sides. The Chanel jersey is good—wool crepes too, though these would better be kept for more afternoony things.

Sweaters in Layers

HERE'S the darlingest sweater, hand-knitted from rabbit's wool sort of yarn—really a thin angora it is. It has no sleeves and it is purled in at the waistline, where it stops. You pull it over a tailored skirt to give extra warmth, and a spot of color under your coat.

If you are going skating or anywhere exposed to the cold, don't stop at one of these. Have two or three or even four and pull them on one over the other, always being careful to adapt the colors one to the other so they make a charming arrangement. You can have one of soft blue, one of intense blue and then one of a soft rose shade and a cardigan worn over all. They are not nearly so bulky as they sound, because the wool is so thin and wispy, while at the same time it is warm. As you pull them off, one after the other, you strike quite a nice dress attitude.

There are vivid skating sets of brushed wool in solid colors really adequate for extra warmth. They consist of beret, scarf, gamut gloves, ramrod design to wear these particular SECRETS—If you go back to the beginning of the season, the Puritans declared a day of thanksgiving because the crops had been good.

SECRETS—If I said that this year, the farm bloc would deny it. SECRETARY—That may be true, but crop prices would have gone far lower if it hadn't been for the drought.

SECRETS—I can't ask thanksgiving for the drought, can I? SECRETARY—No, I hardly think that would be proper.

SECRETS—What did Mr. Coolidge write when he was getting out that Thanksgiving proclamation?

Care of the Mop

HOW do you treat your oiled mop? This is an excellent cleaning implement, but if not properly cared for it is liable to scatter dirt instead of removing it.

Of course you always hang your mop so it does not touch the floor. Perhaps you shake it before placing it on the hook and let it go at that, but an oiled mop needs more attention than that if you expect good service from it.

After using it always brush it with a whisk broom before putting it away. Drawing a paper bag over the mop end will insure its perfect cleanliness when wanted. Occasionally wash it in hot soap suds and rinse in clear hot water and it should be dried quickly, but not too near the heat.

To renew an oiled mop sprinkle it with a little light lubricating oil or any good floor oil and allow it to stand until the oil spreads through it.

TELLING THE WORLD

JUST HOW IT'S DONE

HOW the President gets around to issuing that Thanksgiving proclamation:

SECRETARY—Don't forget that this is November, Mr. President. PRESIDENT—I'll never forget this November as long as I live—especially Tuesday, the fourth.

SECRETARY—But what I mean is, it's time you issued your usual Thanksgiving proclamation. PRESIDENT—Do I really have to do it THIS year?

SECRETARY—Yes, it's an annual custom. PRESIDENT—I suppose I could be thankful the Republicans managed to elect a Governor in Pennsylvania, but what else?

SECRETARY—Oh, the proclamation doesn't have to have a political tinge. You simply build up reasons why everyone should observe a day of thanksgiving.

PRESIDENT—Well, what are the reasons they should?

SECRETARY—If you go back to the beginning of the season, the Puritans declared a day of thanksgiving because the crops had been good.

MANY REPORTED DEAD IN STORM

DENVER, Nov. 20.—UP—Snow that piled up to record depths dead death and suffering in the Rocky Mountain states tonight.

It disrupted railroad, automobile and airplane traffic.

Two hundred eastbound passengers on three Santa Fe trains were trapped in their pullmans behind mountainous drifts at Trinidad.

Cars Stalled

Scores of other persons suffered inconvenience and exposure in marooned automobiles on snow-blocked highways.

Guy Miner, 50, postmaster of Des Moines, New Mex., froze to death in a snowbank near Mount Dora, New Mexico.

Miner lost his way in the blizzard when he left his stalled automobile and tried to reach Mount Dora afoot.

A companion, J. W. Whitehead, of Amarillo, stayed in the machine and was rescued today. He was taken to a hospital where his condition was regarded as critical.

Town Sends Aid

Twenty automobiles were reported marooned on the highway between Trinidad and Pueblo. Their occupants were presumed to have taken shelter at farm houses.

The town hall at Palmer Lake was thrown open to motorists who became marooned on the road between Denver and Colorado Springs.

Windows of residences and business houses were shattered by gale like winds which lashed La Junta. Snow drifted up to the eaves of houses.

Stock Lost

Loss of livestock in the Arkansas valley was reported heavy in the territory adjacent to Lamar and La Junta. Residents of the entire valley went without electricity when the transmission lines snapped under the burden of snow.

A Santa Fe switch engine was put into service to rescue motorists stranded on the highway along the tracks.

Twenty school children who were marooned in Lima school building seven miles south of Pueblo were rescued by highway workers who battered through huge drifts to reach them.

Paoli reported the 36-hour blizzard there was continuing.

Hunter Lost

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bowers and their two small children, tourists from Oklahoma City, received treatment for exposure at the Colorado Springs police station. They were marooned in their automobile on a road when rescued.

Smokestacks on the Santa Fe roundhouse at Raton, N. M. were blown down by the wind and rail traffic was suspended because of the derailment of an engine in a drift, 30 miles north of there.

Raton Pass was closed. James Telford, 36, of Denver became lost from deer hunting companions 15 miles west of Raton. Fear was felt for his safety.

Highway workers cleared a path home for 35 members of the Greeley country club, who were unable to leave the club after a party last night.

An entire wing of the Carlyle grade school in Pueblo collapsed under the storm's assault. The wing started falling when the roof caved in under the weight of the snow.

Trains Late

The first doctor to visit the San Rafael hospital on the outskirts of Trinidad in 36 hours reached there on snowshoes today. The detour road leading to the hospital was closed by great drifts.

Sisters at the hospital ministered to patients without aid of physicians and cared for relatives of patients who were prevented by the storm from returning to Trinidad.

The average railroad delay was six hours, but three Santa Fe east-bound trains were 24 hours behind schedule at Trinidad.

Westbound Santa Fe trains were

School Year Book Play At High School

A clever play entitled "Don't Be a Meany" was presented by members of the Richmond union high school year book staff yesterday morning before a school assembly. The purpose of the presentation was to advertise the sale of Year Book tickets.

Members of the cast were: William McClosky, Elva Plouff, Ellen Baldwin, Geraldine Baker, Russell Hawks, Helen Ahern, Olga Mohamed, Mildred Rollino, Lucille Costa, Archie Odell, Edwin Poole, Gertrude Parker, and Hughes Powell. Hughes Powell furnished a background with piano selections during the play.

Reward Offered For Dog Killer

MARTINEZ, Nov. 20.—Dog owners of this city are up in arms over the poisonings that have taken place during the past few days.

A reward of $25 was offered today for the apprehension of those responsible for the deaths of several pets recently. Four men, owners of dogs who suffered poison made the offer.

George O. Meese, M. L. Jones, P. D. Butcher, and Earl McCaillum are those who have made the reward offer. Meese's dog died from poison while Jones found his pet in time to rush him to an Oakland veterinary to save his life.

Vollmer Leads War On Crime

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—UP—A move to unite all the official and civic law enforcement agencies in the entire Chicago area in one big drive against crime was started today with an organization meeting at the University of Chicago.

Under direction of August Vollmer, of Berkeley, professor of police administration at the university, approximately 115 officials representing state, federal, county, township and city agencies, official and civic, met to discuss plans for uniting efforts.

Richmond Man Called By Death

Rites were still pending last night for Willvaldo Zermeno who passed away after an illness of a week.

Zermeno had lived at 460 Second Salvador, Carliota, and Courdes Zermeno lived in this city for four years. His native country was Mexico.

The deceased man, 49 years of age is survived by his widow Carlotta Zermeno and the following children: Mark, Oscar, Juanita, Amelia, Salvador, Carlota, and Courdes Zermeno.

Wilson and Kratzer were making arrangements for the rites.

VINCENNES, Ind.—Among 4000 coins in a collection owned by Roy E. Ferguson, is one of Greek mintage which is 2300 years old. It was coined in 400 B. C. during the Ephesus regime. On one side is cast a fly and on the other a llama beneath a tree.

rerouted at Newton, Kans., to Amarillo and Albuquerque, Colorado and southern traffic between Fort Worth and Trinidad was at a standstill with snowplows working at both ends of the blockade.

Girl Stolen

In Trinidad the government weather bureau recorded a snowfall of 32 inches. The roof of a large public garage caved in, damaging many automobiles. Other roofs were reported dangerously near collapse.

In Morgan county, oil field activity had to be suspended. Officers seeking Miss Enid Marriott, 20-year-old school teacher, kidnapped at Wiggins Sunday night, were marooned at Fort Morgan.

Another alleged kidnaper, Robert Thompson, 21, Salida railroad worker, was marooned with his victim, Dorothy McCombs, 15, and two other companions on Poncha Pass, between Salida and Alamogordo, while sheriffs of two counties battered at the drifts.
